

City of Santa Clara / Silicon Valley Power
EV Charging Station Incentive Program
Site Verification Form

Under the EV Charging Station Incentive Program (“Program”) of the City of Santa Clara, Silicon Valley Power (SVP), applicants, who do not own the property where the proposed infrastructure installation site is to be located, must provide authorization, to the satisfaction of SVP that the installation work is authorized by the property owner. The property owner and e applicant must complete, sign, and submit this form to SVP’s EV Charging Station Incentive program staff. In addition, contractors, who submit an application on behalf of an applicant, must obtain authorization of the applicant to submit this form on behalf of applicant. SVP’s staff reserve the right to require that applicant, contractor, property provide such further information as may be required to review and approve an applicant’s application.

The Program promotes the acceleration of zero-emission vehicle adoption through incentives for electric vehicle recharging equipment and associated software. For more information about the Program or how to participate, please visit SiliconValleyPower.com.
